

June 16, 2008

Greetings.

Take the time right now to mark your calendar for the Idaho (and eastern Washington and Oregon) activities noted below. There's already a lot coming up for Fall, and Summer hasn't even officially arrived yet. If your events or websites are not listed, please send me a notice right away, and I'll include it in the July 1 issue.

You are welcome to pass this email on to others. If you are reading The Update for the first time and wish to subscribe, please send me your email address. There is no charge for this service.

Deadlines are the fifteenth and 30th of every month.

(I generally do not edit submissions, and do not guarantee accuracy of content.)

If you are no longer interested in receiving this newsletter, please respond with "unsubscribe" in the subject line.

Thank you,
Betty Rodgers

From Query to Contract: Anatomy of a Book Deal - A one and a half hour workshop designed for writers of fiction and nonfiction books with Jon and Kae Tienstra of KT Public Relations and Literary Services, Fogelsville, PA. This informational workshop will answer such questions as: What can a literary agent do for me? Should my book be complete before I query an agent? And, what can I expect from a publisher after my book is under contract?

Literary agents and publicists, Jon and Kae will present a brief program followed by a question and answer session. Interested authors can sign up for a 5-minute "interview" with the agents after the program. There is no charge for the program. Thursday, June 19, 2008 from 6 to 7:30 p.m. Garden City Library, 6015 Glenwood, Garden City. For more information visit:

Congratulations:

Announcing 2008 Independent Publisher Book Awards Results 12th Annual IPPY Awards which were presented in Los Angeles on May 30th

Poetry: Bronze: Retreats & Recognitions by Grace Bauer (Lost Horse Press, Sandpoint, Idaho)
www.losthorsepress.org

From the selection committee: "It's an honor to present the winners of this year's Awards, and we sincerely congratulate and thank all entrants for their participation. Our contest motto, "Recognizing Excellence in Independent Publishing" honors the best independently published books of the past year. This year's contest attracted 3,175 total entries. The medal-winning books listed below come from 44 U.S. states plus the District of Columbia and U.S. Virgin Islands; 7 Canadian provinces; and 5 countries overseas. These books come not only from diverse locations, but also diverse personalities and viewpoints, and represent the cutting-edge of independent thinking and expression. We present these awards in hopes that all of these books and their authors will be recognized for their excellence, and get all the attention they deserve."

Libraries throughout the state are encouraging kids to read this summer with the 2008 theme "Catch the Reading Bug!" Treasure Valley kids have started signing up for Summer Reading programs at their local public library.

"Kids can earn prizes just for reading," says Tammy Hawley-House, Youth Services librarian at Boise Public Library, "and it's a chance for them to read for fun. Kids who finish all three Summer Reading goals win a book, food coupons and a free pass from the Snake River Stampede Rodeo, the Boise Hawks, Idaho IceWorld and the Discovery Center of Idaho! There are similar prizes for teens, too."

The programs are a long-standing tradition, designed to keep children reading over the summer so that they don't lose ground between semesters. Local Summer Reading programs run to July 31. Programs vary slightly by library, with some libraries having separate programs for kids, teens and adults, and special provisions for schools and childcare centers. For details, call your local library or visit www.idahokidsread.org.

The summer schedule for Boise Public Library's Main Library located at 715 South Capitol Boulevard will be closed on Sundays through August 31, 2008. The library branches located in the Collister Shopping Center and Hillcrest Shopping Center will remain open on Sundays, 1:00 p.m. - 5:00 p.m. Library access is also available at: TeleCirc: 384-4450

THE CABIN
WORDS WORK WONDERS

Early Bird Ends June 30 for Readings & Conversations

Cabin members receive priority reservations for next season's Readings & Conversations during the early bird period. Guests will include Michael Pollan, Aimee Bender with Anthony Doerr, Joan Didion and Alexander McCall Smith.

Writer's workshop with Ken Rodgers, MFA: Lyric Essay, Where the wild meets the personal. Six weeks, June 30, July 7, 14, 21, August 11 and 18. 7:00 P.M. Cost: $110.00. True North Creative Learning Center, Eagle. Embrace the personal and the lyrical where personal essay meets the music and the imagery of poetry. In six weeks of two-hour meetings on Monday evenings we will create and discuss fresh new essays in a fresh new genre that will appear on the page like nothing you have ever created--a melding of the essay and the poem--a different sense, something more than the words of how and why, but words compelled by supercharged language and imagery. We will break limits, examine associative leaps, experiment. And we will write, write, write. Register at www.truenorthclc.com or call 939-0385.

BOISE NONFICTION WRITERS' Speaker Series. SPEED GRAMMAR FOR CREATIVE WRITERS: Steve Flick, Writing teacher and author of both fiction and nonfiction, will share his secrets for making good grammar easy and fun. Wednesday July 2, 2008, 6:30-8 pm (but come at 6 to browse books and visit with other aspiring writers), Rediscovered Bookshop, 7079 Overland Rd., Boise, <http://www.rdbooks.org>, 208.376.4229. This event is FREE and open to everyone. For more info: cindysalo@hotmail.com.

BOISE NONFICTION WRITERS' Speaker Series. GUERILLA PUBLISHING: Bruce Raisch, adventurer, ghost town hunter, photographer, and author of Idaho Ghost Towns, will tell us how to maintain control of our published work. Wednesday July 9, 2008, 6:30-8 pm (but come at 6 to browse books and visit with other aspiring writers), Rediscovered Bookshop, 7079 Overland Rd., Boise, <http://www.rdbooks.org>, 208.376.4229. The Cabin announces an extraordinary opportunity for high school juniors and seniors with Wilderness Writing Expedition set for August 3 - 9, 2008. Twelve students will have the experience of their lives as they take a river trip on the Lower Salmon where professional river guides will steer them safely through Class III-IV rapids and lead exploratory hikes in Idaho's world-class Salmon River canyon. Professional writers will guide them in a personal writing expedition as they discover their truest voice. There is no cost for participants, as students will be chosen through a writing contest where they are asked to submit two pages telling an adventure, a dream or a memory. Submission deadline is July 11 and rafters will be chosen and notified by July 18. For more information, contact Carole Whiteleather, Program Director for The Cabin at 331-8000 or email at carole@thecabinidaho.org. This program is sponsored by a grant from the Whittenberger Foundation.

Mary Oliver

"Poetry isn't a profession; it's a way of life. It's an empty basket; you put your life into it and make something out of that," says Mary Oliver. Her first volume, No Voyage, was published in 1963. Her third book, American Primitive, won the Pulitzer Prize, and her New and Selected Poems (1992) won the National Book Award. Mary Oliver is among our very finest poets. Her work, celebrated for its precise imagery and evocation, conveys a deep connection with the natural world. Her poems are "...an excellent antidote for the excesses of civilization, for too much flurry and inattention. She is a poet of wisdom and generosity whose vision allows us to look intimately at a world not of our making" (Harvard Review). For tickets, www.thecabinidaho.org.

Barnes & Noble in Idaho Falls: In an effort to further address the interests of the writers in our community, we host a writer's group workshop at 7 p.m. on the first Wednesday of every month. We welcome anyone who would like to participate. Contact Maribeth Ernst, (208) 552-1463, crm2246@bn.com. Also, you can participate in their Poet's Open Mic night on the third Wednesday of each month at 7 p.m.

IDAHO Magazine www.idahomagazine.com is interested in your non-fiction stories on Idaho topics. They offer one-time rights to buy those stories. Send queries with specific details in the "Subject" line to Kitty Fleischman, publisher/editor at kfleisch@idahomagazine.com. Then be sure to let me know when your story is published so we can announce it here.

IDAHO HUMANITIES COUNCIL - Read the latest "What I've Been Reading" book reviews on the Council's website: http://www.idahohumanities.org/news/what_read_08_01.php.

Boise Public Library invites avid readers to sign up for their e-mail book review service at www.boisepubliclibrary.org This free monthly newsletter reviews the latest books in a variety of categories.

The Scene in Moscow, ID, and Eastern Washington as reported by BookPeople:

Come on down to the Socrates Cafe, an event at BookPeople! When was the last time you could discuss your thoughts openly and honestly with others? Have you ever questioned society and its assumptions, or your own? Do you like to have a good discussion without fear of being attacked for having an opinion that is different? Then Socrates Cafe is here for you! The time is 6:00 pm, and the Cafe will meet every first and third Sunday of the month. Future meetings: July 6th, July 20th. For more information, find them on the web at www.philosopher.org.

Do you like books? Ever wanted to make one the old-fashioned way? The way the professionals of yesteryear did? Then we have some great news for you! Jim Croft of Oldways is hosting some classes on bookmaking! And let us tell you, Jim Croft knows his bookmaking; he's one of the very best! The next class:

Tool Intensive - June 24th through 25th - Wherein you learn all about making tools, knives, bones, awls, scrapers and more.

Or, for those of you who want to know everything there is to know:

Oldways of Making Books from Raw Materials - June 26th through July 11th.

This gets you everything: tool making and sharpening, lessons on fibers hempen and flaxen, traditional hand papermaking and loft-drying, gelatin sizing and burnishing, and making a book with wooden boards and clasps.

Space is limited, so inquire today! For more information, for dates and times, or to register, contact Jim Croft and Melody Eckroth at oldway@imbris.com, or call 208-245-3043, or visit www.geocities.com/oldways_id

It's time once again (in fact, 104th again!) for the Moscow Bloomsday! celebration, now at recurrence number 104. On Monday, June 16 meet at the 1912 Center in Moscow from 6:30-10:30 pm. There will be both rehearsed and impromptu audience readings from James Joyce's Ulysses, which takes place on a single day: June 16, 1904. Anyone named James, Augustine, Joyce, Nora, Barnacle, Stephen, Dedalus, Leopold, Marian, Molly, Tweedy, or Bloom or anyone born or married on June 16th will get FREE BEVERAGES all night. So there's only a couple months left to get down to the Latah County Courthouse and have your name legally changed to Tweedy for those free drinks! Inquire at Bookpeople or e-mail Mirrortheater@roadrunner.com. The event is sponsored by Bookpeople and the Mirror Theater.

Jana Brubaker is running letterpress printing classes starting June 22, with a registration deadline of June 6. The workshops are full-day for five days and are offered in three different subjects: the Postcards class, for inexperienced printers, will run June 23-27, with a registration fee of $250. The Broadside Exchange class, for more experienced printers or those continuing from the beginner class, will run July 21-25, for a fee of $275. The Collaborative Book class, running August 11-15, for a $350 fee, is for writers looking to print their works or for experienced printmakers looking to use some of their own writing in a book. Participants will work together to create a book including their original writing and images with a common theme. The Postcards class will also run on Sundays, for those who work, June 22 and 29, July 13, 20, and 27.

Bookpeople of Moscow is sponsoring a free showing of The Golden Compass at the Kenworthy Performing Arts Centre on June 25, 2008. We will also be holding a costume contest for the best armored bear, or panzerbjorne, from the books or movie.

The In The Park Summer Reading Series is sponsoring the following event: July 3: Americana Crafts, "Fly a Flag" reading by local author Denali Struble.

The Third Annual Writer's Edge conference is being held in downtown Portland, Oregon from July 25-27. Writers will learn about edge, and its application in their writing, through five workshops on writing innovative fiction, two panels, a faculty reading, an open mic, and "myriad conversations about experimental prose." For more information or to apply to the conference, visit <http://fc2.org/edge/edge.htm>. Anyone with more questions about the conference please contact Idaho's own Lance Olsen, co-organizer of the conference at writersedge2008@gmail.com. Olsen, who taught at the University of Idaho for 12 years and directed the University of Idaho's Masters of Fine Arts program for two years, will be teaching a workshop entitled "The Mosaic Mind: Fiction as Collage."
